ABOUT US

Growing a biotech company that thrives, with mission-driven employees and a healthy culture, while competing with large biopharma for great talent can be a daunting task to say the least. That's why we've started Building Biotechs, a podcast offering a behind-the-scenes look into the strategy that goes into launching and scaling successful biotech and life science companies.

We'll be speaking with those at the forefront of growing biotechs, from high-level executives and founders, to hiring managers, DEI leaders, and industry experts. We'll be learning the tactics and strategies our guests used to shepherd these companies from startup to the clinic, through funding rounds, acquisitions, mergers, and IPOs.

We want to give our audience a peek behind the curtain to see what goes into growing a small biotech efficiently and with intention.
